INTRODUCING LIFEPLUS®

Since we first welcomed students to YIA in 2019, we have been a part of the International Schools Consortium (ISC) family of schools. This year, ISC and its parent company Leadership Development International (LDi) have merged to become LifePlus—one name for the same company.

LifePlus...
Worldwide
learning

While you'll see some visual changes, the heart of who we are as an organization remains unchanged. We are still deeply committed to providing world-class education to students as we strive to see world-class leaders raised up in every vocation.

LifePlus is accredited by Cognia, a world-renowned educational body that recognizes the incredibly high standards of our work and continues to evaluate our performance—raising us higher, taking our students further. Through our association with LifePlus, YIA is able to participate in various system-wide events, as well as provide our students and staff with global opportunities to flourish.

We look forward to providing the same excellent educational services to your family under the LifePlus name. While you'll see a small LifePlus endorsement under our logo, our name, identity, and vision all remain the same. You will be hearing more about LifePlus in the days and months to come. Please take a look around our corporate website (lifepusworldwide.com) to get to know a little more about us, and feel free to reach out to national staff with any questions you may have.

the front of the school, and vehicles will not be allowed to go beyond the cones. With student safety in mind, we would like to ask all parents to comply with the following to ensure that everyone is safe in front of the school.

RECOGNIZING ISC 9 QUALITIES FOR LIFE

Teaching students about the ISC 9 Qualities for Life is an integral part of the character education and development program at YIA. Each month, YIA teaches about a single characteristic, and we award students from all grade levels who have demonstrated that characteristic the most. Teachers observe the students throughout the month and nominate winners.

For the month of April, our focus was on "Humility". Only by possessing humility can one know one's own shortcomings, appreciate the strengths and weaknesses of others, and continuously improve and achieve the ultimate good. We would like to congratulate and commend the following students for being humble, enthusiastic, studious, and good at asking questions. They often humbly seek advice from teachers and classmates on questions they do not understand, which reflects the essence of "humility" and sets an example for their classmates.

Monthly Star Candidates:

- Judy Wang
- Sylvia Chen
- Rayah Tai
